

Class Rep of the Month - October 2019

My name is Dana Stoddart.

I'm studying a postgrad in Information & Library Studies.

I've been a Class Rep for this course since the beginning of term, but I was a Class Rep over three years during my undergraduate degree at Glasgow Uni.

While being Class Rep there have been some accessibility issues for some of my classmates, so I've been trying to start conversations with the university and disability services to get these resolved for my classmates and the wider student population in general.

I'd say to other Class Reps to not be afraid to escalate issues where that's necessary. It's easier to just stay quiet and say everything's fine, but it's important to find out how everyone on your course is finding the experience.

Also, make the effort to be as friendly and approachable as possible with the people on your course so they are comfortable telling you how they're feeling.
